SMALL CHANGE.

Our mouth begins to water for strawberries these warm days.

"Mumble-the-peg" is the favorite game of the little girls in Milan.

Look out for a change of schedule on the L. & N. road about to-morrow.

Straw hats and bare feet are becoming fashionable with the little boys.

The telegraph line repairer passed through town on Monday, en route to Memphis.

We learn that the growing wheat looks better, and that the prospect is more promising.

Two Italians, with harp and fiddle, and another with an organ, made music for our people last Monday.

A slight change has taken effect in the running of the trains on the Central road. See time-card on this page.

With an evaporator and a canning establishments Milan will be ahead of all competitors in the fruit and vegetable line in the south.

We are under obligations to Hon. Chas. B. Simonton for a copy of the Compendium of the Tenth Census of the United States—the most valuable of all the public documents.

Rev. Mr. Graham organized a prohibition club, yesterday, with the following officers: S. F. Raukuu, president, Dr. A. A. Davidson, secretary; A. W. Loving, treasurer.

Mrs. Cunningham is having a new brick business house built on Main street, one door below the post office, having torn away the old frame building. It will be 20 by 40 feet and one story high.

That beautiful new suit of summer clothing which we expect to air ourselves in came from Jordan's mammoth stock, and he has more just like it. He is up with the latest styles and can fit you with a suit at any price.

Mr. John Blackman, who lives near Gibson, in this county, has two fish ponds, one stocked with carp and the other with perch. He feeds them regularly, and when goes to the pond and rings his bell they come in great schools, like hungry children, for their dinner. He will soon have plenty of them to eat.

It is said there were several drunken men in town last Sunday, and that some of them were boisterous. If it is necessary, we hope the city authorities will put on an extra police force until this Sunday rowdiness is stopped. Let every man who is caught be fined to the full extent of the law. Such scenes are disgraceful to any community.

The neatest thing we have seen lately is the elegant programme of the great Cincinnati Dramatic Festival, sent out by the L. & N. road. This company will sell half fare tickets at their office here from April 28th to May 4th, good until May 6th. This will be a rare opportunity to see and hear a number of America's star actors on the stage at the same time.

Tom Harrison's horse shoe has kept him so busy lately that he had to take a rest this week, which he improved by going to Memphis for a little recreation. He is again on deck, though, and is now receiving the handsomest stock and the greatest variety he has ever shown the people. He has made a special order of goods to please his customers, and his house will be crowded worse than ever from this time on. Read his big advertisement on the eighth page, and you will be certain to go at once and see him.

PERSONAL.

Bill Williamson and Jack Dickinson came up from Jackson last Tuesday to vote for the school tax.

Messrs. Frenz and Harrison, two of Milan's liveliest merchants, made a flying trip to Memphis this week.

Rev. J. E. Eoff, of Milan, will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church on next Sunday morning.—Brownsville States.

Elder J. H. Holt requests us to announce that he will preach at Republican Grove to-morrow morning. Subject: "The dissimilarity betwixt the Baptist and Campbellite churches."

We learn from a recent issue of the Abilene (Texas) Reporter that Prof. Hooker has bought five lots in that growing town. But the Professor ought to punch that editor for putting his name "C. D." Hooker, and then kick him for spelling the name of our city Milan.

Mr. Robert A. Young, representing the Mozart Society, of Memphis, called on us last Wednesday and contracted for an advertisement of the grand entertainments to be given in Memphis on the 14th and 15th of May. The Monday evening programme will be the Redemption, Tuesday matinee Concert Programme, and Wednesday evening Elijah. A chorus of 150 trained singers, assisted by Theodore Thomas's world-renowned orchestra of seventy musicians, will render their grand music in a matchless manner.

Dr. Alfred Graham, of Nashville, Tenn., is in our city, the guest of Rev. W. H. Armstrong. Dr. Graham is one of the editors of that most excellent temperance journal, the Southern Broadaxe, published at the Capital of our state. The Broadaxe is all that its name implies. It keeps its blade sharp and keen and hews to the line. Our people have extended a cordial hand to the Broadaxe editor, and have given him a good list of subscribers. Any of our readers desirous of perusing a stirring temperance paper should send for a sample copy of the Broadaxe.

Revenue Cases.

Two weeks ago Deputy Marshal Haun brought before U. S. Commissioner Jordan Jno. Nail, of Crockett county, charged with selling leaf tobacco unlawfully. He was bound over in the sum of $500.

On last Saturday he brought in two more prisoners. Wm. Stanley, of Rives, Obion county, was charged with selling whiskey without having paid the U. S. special tax, and was bound over in the sum of $500.

Jim Dowdy, of Henderson county, was under an old charge of illicit distilling. He was sent to the Jackson jail to await trial in the U. S. Court next week.

KILLED BY ITS FRIENDS.

The election held here last Tuesday to vote a supplemental tax for school purposes resulted in the defeat of the proposition, although a majority voted for it. The law requires a two-thirds majority. A little over one-third of a full vote was polled, the polls being opened in only one ward, while the order was that the election should be held in all the wards. Out of 129 votes, 79 were in its favor and 50 against it. Numbers of gentlemen voted "no tax" who are really in favor of it; but they say they are heartily disgusted with the interminable wrangling about the college and will oppose all taxes until the management is changed. Many did not vote, for similar reasons. Only about one dozen negroes voted. Half of them opposed the tax, saying they did not want to be taxed one dollar to educate white folks' children. Somebody had evidently been pulling the wool over their eyes. The town is evidently at a dead-lock on the school question, and we suppose our people will continue to send their children and money to more enterprising communities. The bottom of the trouble seems to be a defect in the college charter, which provides that the trustees may hold their office for life. It seems that the stockholders cannot change the board when they become dissatisfied with their acts; and the trustees seem determined to control the college in their own way. Thus it goes. There are two or three opposing parties among the stockholders, while the balance of the town have no voice in the matter, and are compelled to go without a good school part of the time. It is very evident to us that there can and will be no unanimity of action regarding a school at the college under the present management. We therefore suggest that the school commissioners suspend the public schools in the town for one year, and use the money in building a public school house, or buy the college building. If this is done, the commissioners can control the property and the faculty, and we believe a liberal tax will be voted to keep up a permanent school.

DIED.

DAVIDSON.—Mrs. Bettie Davidson, wife of Dr. A. A. Davidson, died at her residence, four miles south of town, last Wednesday, after a long illness. She leaves a large family of small children and a tender husband to mourn her death. She was a member of the lodge of the Golden Cross here, and is the second death among their membership this week.

KESTNAR.—Mrs. Sarah Kestnar, wife of Charles Kestnar, died at her residence here last Sunday morning, of dropsy of the heart. She had been walking around the day before, and her death was quite sudden. She was a member of the U. O. G. C. and was buried by the lodge here last Monday.

Mr. Kestnar requests us to express his thanks to the lodge and his friends generally for their kind acts of sympathy in his bereavement.

SAWYER.—J. W. Sawyer died on the Taylor farm, one mile north of here, last Friday. He leaves a wife and seven small children in very destitute circumstances. Charitable people are notified that they are worthy objects for their assistance, and we hope prompt and liberal help will be given them.

Go to A. Jordan's for straw hats.

A CANNING FACTORY.

We are in receipt of the following, which we have shown to a number of our prominent fruit and vegetable growers, all of whom are enthusiastically in favor of it:

To the Citizens of Milan and vicinity:
One of the largest grocery firms in Chicago will put up and operate, in Milan, a canning establishment, capable of employing from one hundred to five hundred people, so soon as they can get the satisfactory assurance that the people will furnish them sufficient fruit and vegetables to run said establishment through the canning season. Will you try to make an organized effort to secure this industry? If so let me hear from you.

JOHN SHEPHERD.

Chicago, April 13th, 1883.

After consultation with a number of members of the Fruit and Vegetable Growers' Association and other prominent citizens, we are requested to call a joint meeting of that body and the public this afternoon at two o'clock, in Jordan's Hall. The object is to estimate the quantity of the surplus crop above the amount which will probably be shipped, so as to see whether there will be sufficient to "feed" a five-hundred-hand factory. If not, it is not too late to plant largely in vegetables if it is found the factory managers will pay an encouraging price for produce. Let there be a full attendance at the meeting. We hope to see a representative of the firm present, who will be able to answer all questions.

Bitten by a Spider.

Mr. M. L. Baird was bitten on the arm last Sunday morning by a large black spider. In the afternoon he suffered so severely from it that he had to call in medical aid. He has recovered from its effects.

I solicit an inspection of my goods, and dress goods especially, by every lady in Gibson county, and promise, and will give to any lady, who will tell me she has honestly at any time in her life, seen a prettier line of these goods and at such reasonable prices as I sell them, a pattern of goods for the information. I am really anxious to make the acquaintance of the man who keeps a prettier line of these goods than I do.

TOM HARRISON.

P. S.—The horse shoe hangs majestically in the rear of the store, and really seems to smile.
